

Stop Terrorism & Extremism Online

- The internet and social media provides many opportunities for those with extreme views to target young or vulnerable individuals.
- Tackling extremist material is important to protect the public and prevent offences that incite or promote terrorism and extremism.
- The Counter Terrorism Internet Referral Unit put considerable effort into removing terrorist and extremist material.
- Where there is any concern about internet content it can be reported and potentially removed by filling in a short form at the below web address

STOP TERRORISTS' & EXTREMISTS' ONLINE PRESENCE

- You will see the .jpg of the Counter Terrorism Internet Referral Unit reporting mechanism above. This has been added to the GMP website with a hyperlink to the CTIRU web address.
- The 28th November - 4th December is Counter Terrorism awareness week. In readiness for this week we ask managers across all organisations with a website to join the campaign by adding the red button and hyperlink to your own website.
- If you wish to be involved in promoting this important facility please add an image of the button to your website and hyperlink this to the reporting web address.
